As a member of the ZBA you will do the following:

1) Review challenges to decisions made by the local zoning enforcement officer or building inspectors.
2) Decide on requests for exceptions to zoning rules when a property owner faces an unusual hardship (such as an oddly shaped lot).
3) Clarify vague or confusing sections of the local zoning code.
4) Listen to testimony from property owners, neighbors, and experts before voting on applications.

ZBA meetings are held monthly and some research and reading outside the meeting will be required.
